Oil is being taken in from within the three-mile limit off the coast of California and the Gulf of Mexico. The United States has deposits extend into the Gulf of Mexico off the coast of Texas.

A White House statement said the proclamation policy "does not touch on the question of federal versus state control of oil." It is concerned solely with establishing the jurisdiction of the United States from an international standpoint.

Last week the House passed legislation, now pending before the Senate, surrendering to the states any claims to determine most states now claim tidelands out to the three-mile limit as contiguous parts of the state. He said he did not believe the proclamation would affect the progress of the legislation.

Beta Sigma Phi Sponsors Lady Recognition Contest

First Lady of the Year Will Be Elected by Civic Leaders

Maryland Lambda Chapter and Maryland Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority will sponsor a "First Lady of the Year" contest here in Cumberland, under the direction of the international organization, Beta Sigma Phi, which is promoting the contest throughout the country.

Miss Catherine Lippold is general chairman of the local contest, which will be held throughout the month of October. In selecting their candidate the judges will consider her accomplishments in war service; cultural and civic work; homemaking; business and other outstanding community activities.

A certificate of recognition, from the international organization, will be presented to the "First Lady" at a formal dinner party given in her honor by the local chapters of the sorority, with Miss Lippold presiding.

County Council P-TA Sponsors Rip Van Winkle

Showings Will Be Given in High Schools October 3-5

When "Rip Van Winkle" comes to Allegany county, October 3-5, under the sponsorship of the Allegany County Council of Parent-Teacher Association, the play will not be the same version as that for which Joseph Jefferson was so well known. Clara Tree Major, whose Children's Theater Company is to give the performance, has written a new version which holds more closely to the original story than did the Jefferson version.

The first showing will be given October 3 at 9:30 o'clock in Fort Hill high school and the second at 12:45 o'clock. On October 4 it will be given at Bruce high school at 9:30 o'clock and at Central high school at 1:30 o'clock. The final performances will be given at 9:30 and 1:30 o'clock at Beall high, October 5.

Mrs. John E. Lancaster is general chairman for the presentations and explains one of the objects of the local sponsors is to familiarize the children with good literature through the most popular means possible, a good theater. Progressive educators have been placing more and more stress on visual education during the past decade. All sorts of subjects are now taught through classroom dramatization, educators holding that ten facts that are dramatized are easier to remember permanently than one fact that is merely read from a book.

In Rip Van Winkle, the historical events are presented as an integral part of the play, Mrs. Lancaster says. Following Rip through the little village at the foot of the Catskill mountains the audience hears him discussing various topics of the day with the villagers and sees him dancing with a big brown bear celebrating the repeal of the Stamp Act, for which Benjamin Franklin had been working so long. And after his twenty years long up on the mountain he returned home to find George Washington instead of King George was ruling the country.

Gallup Poll Shows American Public Thinks Draft Age Should Be Raised

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., September 28.—The American public thinks the draft age should be lifted from 18 to 20 years about the time the war has ended.

This view is especially significant in light of the pressure being brought on Congress for large-scale discharges of men now serving in the Army.

It is entirely possible that the country's attitude toward raising the draft age may change after further public discussion of the matter. Much will depend on the rate of discharge from the present armed forces. Obviously there is a point beyond which large-scale releasing of men now in service cannot be continued without additional drafting of 18-year-olds if the armed forces are to be kept at the levels announced by military authorities.

In measuring public sentiment on the issue, the Institute had field reporters in all parts of the nation ask:

"If the government decides to continue the draft to obtain men for occupation forces, should we draft young men eighteen years old or should the age be set higher? The replies:

Continue to Draft Young Men 18 Years Old . . . 39%
Set the Draft Age Higher . . . 53%
No opinion . . . 8%

People who said they think the draft age should be set higher were asked what they thought the youngest age should be.

The median average draft age named by all those with opinions was twenty years.

Sentiment on the issue among various population groups is presented in the following tables. Note that sentiment for drafting at 18 is strongest among men, young people, and people with high school and college training.

"Flight Officer" Is Air Training Course Graduate

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax: I am very anxious to find out what a flight officer is, and under what conditions he is promoted? My son has that commission.

F. O. M.

Flight officer is a grade awarded to successful graduates of flight training courses in the army air corps. It is a warrant rather than a commission. Frequently, and especially in the field, flight officers who have distinguished themselves in the performance of their duties are discharged and then commissioned second lieutenants. It is a condition of such a discharge and subsequent commission that the flight officer possess the other qualifications of an officer.

Treatment for Merchant Seamen

Dear Miss Fairfax: Is the marine hospital for the use of men in the marine corps, or are they eligible to treatment in navy hospitals?

M. C. M.

The so-called marine hospital provides medical treatment for merchant marine seamen under the auspices of the United States Public Health Service. The marine corps is an organization which serves the United States navy. Marine corps personnel are medically treated in naval hospitals and naval dispensaries.

Dependent Must Furnish Proof

Dear Miss Fairfax: My son is a naval officer, and I am dependent on him for support. Is it required that he furnish medical attention, or can I apply for same at a naval hospital? There is one in the city where I live.

In making application for medical care, you must furnish adequate proof of relationship and dependency. If you are receiving an allowance of a substantial amount, this proof may be easily established. When satisfactory proof of dependency is furnished, it must be attested by an officer, and you will then be given a dependent's identification card.

This card will be honored for one year from date of issuance at naval hospitals having facilities for medical care of dependents during such time as your son is in the service and on active duty. The card may be renewed after one year.

Coast Guard Demobilization Plan

Dear Miss Fairfax: What is the demobilization plan of the coast guardmen and the par's? I understand they are releasing a good many of their personnel.

K. G.

The coast guard demobilization plan is based on the navy's point system, under which officers must serve a certain number of months, and then are released. Spars must have twenty-nine points. The coast guard expects to release all but 34,900 within the next ten months. Officers and men who need three or more points for discharge will be sent within the United States and assigned to sea duty.

Army Education Program

Dear Miss Fairfax: Are the instructors in the army education program chosen from among the military personnel, or are civilians appointed to take charge of classes?

D. L. K.

All activities of the army education program will normally be conducted by military personnel, both commissioned and enlisted. The duties include those performed by education officers and instructor personnel, the latter being the ones to provide instruction in the various schools.

If you're still in the service—any, navy, marine corps or coast guard—you have a problem regarding insurance, allowances, allowances, maternity and infant care, wives and children, or desire the answer to any other service question, write to Beatrice Fairfax, care of this paper. If you wish a personal answer, please enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Beatrice Fairfax lives in Washington, and will be glad to get in touch with War and Navy departments, through press liaison officers, to solve your problems correct answers. We will also answer questions in the column for those who do not wish to be personally replied.

Steels, Motors and Utilities Lead Market to Another Eight-Year High

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Paced by steels, motors, utilities and assorted industrials, the stock market today touched another new high for more than eight years with gains of fractions to better than two points on expanding volume.

Transfers of 1,380,000 shares were the largest since September, 20.

The fact that selling was negligible in the two preceding declining sessions caused the reinstatement of accounts in some cases.

United Cigar-Whelan cumulative preferred on the curb, jumped eleven and one-half points to 122 on a twenty-share sale following the clearing up of all back dividends on this issue amounting to $25 a share.

The common, on the big board, was up seven-eighths at 10 and one-fourth.

Conspicuous front liners, many in the "new high" class, included United States Steel, Bethlehem Youngstown Sheet, General Motors and Chrysler.

Ahead in the curb were American Gas, Electric Bond and Share, United Gas and Niagara Hudson Power.

Railroad issues moved ahead in today's bond market with many lines showing advances of more than a point.

Among the greatest gainers were Boston and New York Air Line up three and one-fourth and Rock Island 4 1/2 of 52 "A" up two.

In utilities, American and Foreign Power, Columbia Gas and Detroit Edison 3 1/2 were higher, while Duquesne Light 3 1/2, Illinois Bell Telephone and Pacific Gas and Electric were fractionally lower.

Industrials were up 1 of a point on average with American Tobacco 3 1/2 and Crucible Steel 3 1/2 rising. Slightly were Celanese 3 1/2.

United States governments were quiet and steady.

Chicago Grain Prices

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Elimination or at least postponement of a killing frost threat in the corn belt today inspired selling which pushed grain futures downward more than a cent a bushel in some cases.

Killing frost had been predicted tonight or tomorrow morning in Iowa, but widespread cloudy weather and precipitation caused at least postponement of the frost, which could cause considerable damage.

Also, it now appeared that Illinois, another big producer, would escape frost almost entirely. Closing futures:

In view of the fact that public schools are unlikely to attain a singleness of such as is achieved in an infantry school where every man is determined to learn all he can in order to stay alive, Mr. Kopp said that making any comparison between the two systems of education is rather difficult.

Army Perfects Visual Methods

"However, there are some things that have come out of army schools that we stand to benefit by," the superintendent said. "One of them is the manner in which army schools have perfected the visual methods of education. By pictures, they have presented material on many somewhat dull subjects in a dramatic and forceful way. Schools are benefiting by this work in the army. For example, right now we have some eighteen motion picture projectors in the schools and 250 films. Much of this program has grown during the war."

"We have found that this method of education is sound and effective and we have also used still pictures, slides, etc., to greater advantage. Now we are using pictures in connection with such subjects as mathematics, industrial arts, history, English literature and music."

Kopp said that public schools also stand to benefit from teaching methods perfected in the army on physical education and said educators are paying close attention to the army program to determine how it may be applied to all children in the schools.

"Another thing we have learned during the war is the need for increased attention to the teaching of mechanics. Before the war there were plenty of trained mechanics but once the war started the schools were sometimes criticized for not having a broad enough program along this line," he said.

Keyed Up Feeling Important

Returning to the drive and momentum present in army schools Kopp pointed out that education, in normal times, was a more casual thing—and that students were not keyed up to high pitch "for the purpose of accomplishing a big job."

"I wish they had more of this keyed up feeling," Kopp admitted. "But to achieve a motivating force such as was found in army schools it seems necessary to have a matter of life or death."

of the war. No work has been done on the dam since.

When work stopped, the Savage River Dam Commission, which was set up by the State Legislature, had $900,000 in unexpended Federal funds and $250,000 in county funds sufficient to complete the project.

The Federal funds reverted back to the Treasury Department in 1942 although the county's money still is available. In order to complete the work, it was explained, the $900,000 must be reappropriated.

Water Power Aids Plants

Both Representatives pointed out that a number of industrial plants along the Potomac in the vicinity of Cumberland depend on the flow of water for production.

They said that in July and August, when the river drops and becomes virtually stagnant, the Celanese Corporation in Cumberland is forced to purchase approximately 4,000,000 gallons of water daily from the city in order to operate. Other plants in the area also are affected by the drop in the river.

By storing up billions of gallons of water and releasing it during the summer months, the dam would provide a constant source of power, according to Mr. Beall and Mr. Randolph.

In addition, the dam would be a major factor in preventing floods along the Potomac, particularly at Cumberland, where heavy rains frequently result in flood damage.

Tourists To View Fifty Historic and Scenic Areas from Alaska to Mexico

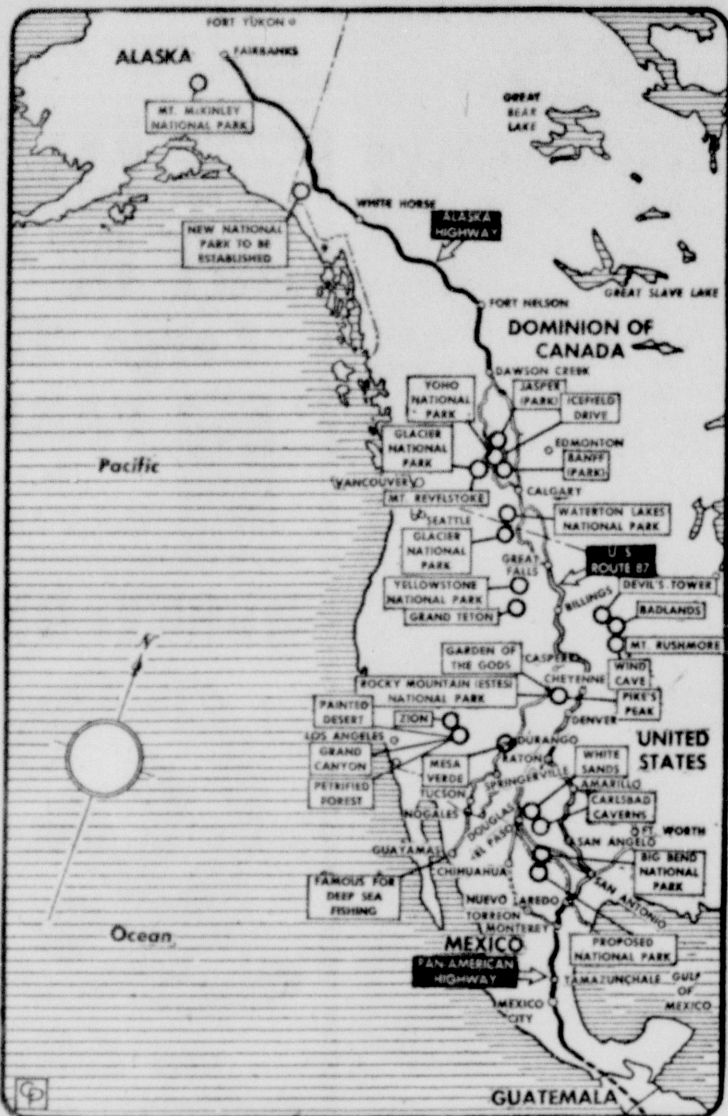

By WILLIAM A. BAKER
Central Press Correspondent

ALPINE, Tex.—With Big Bend National park, on the Rio Grande south of here, now open, and with a national park in Mexico, opposite Big Bend, under discussion by Mexican and United States officials, the tourists who are expected to throng all the parks soon may be able to drive from one to another of some 50 historic and scenic areas in Alaska, Canada, the United States and Mexico, along several thousand miles of the projected Alaska-to-Mexico international highway.

A ruler laid on the map of North America with its edge touching Dawson Creek, British Columbia, southern terminus of the Alaska Highway, and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, northern terminus of the Pan American highway, would be roughly paralleled by U. S. Route 87, from Great Falls, Mont., via Cheyenne, Wyo., Denver, Colo., Raton, N. M., Amarillo and San Angelo to San Antonio, Tex.

An association is striving to have the United States section of the international highway located on or near U. S. 87.

If the Alaska military road is opened to tourists after the war, the international trunk road will have as a tourist attraction, accessible by rail from the highway's northern (Fairbanks, Alaska) terminus, Mt. McKinley National park, containing in Wyoming, the Badlands, Wind Cave and Mt. Rushmore in South Dakota, Rocky Mountain (Estes), the Garden of the Gods, Pike's Peak and Mesa Verde in Colorado, the White Sands and Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, Palo Duro Canyon, Davis Mountain and Big Bend in Texas.

Some distance to the west are Zion, the Grand Canyon, the Painted Desert and the Petrified Forest; however, these places are nearer another route also advocated as the United States highway.

ates have officially re-United States route num-er for this route which is being promoted as the "Canada-United States-Mexico Highway of Friendship."

This route is from Sweetgrass, Mont., via Great Falls and Billings, Mont.; Shoshoni and Rawlins, Wyo., Craig, Grand Junction and Durango, Colo.; Shiprock, N. M.; Sanders and Springville, Ariz. There is controversy in Arizona over two routes from Springville to the Mexican Border, one via Clifton and Safford to Douglas, the other via Globe and Tucson to Nogales.

There has been no action by any governmental agency to designate a United States section of the international highway.

From El Paso, Tex., there is a good road to Chihuahua (230 miles), with the road under construction 100 miles farther south to Camargo. Geography and economics seem to demand a highway from El Paso to Mexico City. From Nogales, Ariz., there is a road, via Hermosillo, to Guaymas, Gulf of California port famous for deep sea fishing.

From the United States border to Mexico City the only all-weather road is the Pan American highway via Nuevo Laredo, Monterrey and Tamazunchale (Thomas and Charlie—as American tourists call it).

According to William H. Furlong of San Antonio, director general of Inter-American Highway association, the Pan American is finished to beyond Comitan, Chiapas, only a few miles from Guatemala, with the exception of about 100 miles of extremely difficult mountainous terrain between Juchitan and Arriaga, near the Gulf of Tehuantepec.

Dr. H. W. Morelock, president of Sul Ross State college at Alpine, who believes the international highway ought to pass through Big Bend, envisions that park as an "Acropolis of the Americas," a shrine of international understanding for all the nations of the western hemisphere.

Cresce "lost his life when the British troopship, the Rohna, on which he was a passenger, was sunk. The ship was attacked by enemy aircraft on November 26, 1943, off Djidjeli, Algeria, and sank within one and one-half hours after being hit. Bomb damage, supplemented by heavy enemy machine gun fire, hampered rescue work, resulted in the loss of 1,015 men, more than half the total of the 1,981 American military personnel aboard."

Pfc. Cresce was a radio operator for the army air force.

Girl Hit by Train

Miss Mary Rawlings, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rawlings, Bloomington, was reported in "fairly" good condition tonight at Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, W. Va., where she was admitted after being struck by a westbound Western Maryland railway passenger train at Cromwell street crossing west of the Luke station at 3:25 p. m.

Hospital attaches reported that Miss Rawlings suffered lacerations of both arms and knees. She will remain at the hospital for observation.

Joseph Wilkes, chief of police in Luke, said Miss Rawlings was walking north across the tracks just as the passenger train was slowing to a stop at the station. He said she had nearly reached the other side of the tracks when the front of the locomotive struck her and knocked her down.

Several persons shouted at the young woman and the engine blew the whistle as the train approached the crossing, but Miss Rawlings apparently did not heed the warnings, as she did not hurry to cross the tracks, Chief Wilkes said.

Miss Rawlings, aided by two men who witnessed the accident, was able to walk to the dispensary of the nearby Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, where she was treated by a Luke physician and then taken to the Keyser hospital.

She is employed by the American Steam Laundry, Piedmont, W. Va.

Sealmear Picks Illini To Score Over Notre Dame

Army, Indiana, North Carolina and Cornell Receive Nod

By AUSTIN SEALMEAR
NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP) — Back in the wars, where the winners were easier to pick and the outcome was more important, we return with the football forecasting business.

It's a little like stumbling through dark alleys in a strange town, but we go:

ILLINOIS VS. NOTRE DAME — I'll bet this one on your piano for a quarter. The Irish, with new faces sprinkled all the way from the center back to the coaching staff, lead against the Illini who joined the team, 9-27, in last year's loss to Notre Dame, 7-13, last year but sets out to reverse the decision this year, perhaps by the same score.

ARMY VS. NORTHWESTERN — ARMY — It's the first game for the team's outstanding center of 1944, which may repeat. PDC lost to Third Army, 9-27, in its opener last Sunday. "Red" Blaik says he'll settle for a one-touchdown Army victory. PDC probably would too. It's Army's way.

INDIANA VS. NORTHWESTERN — Bo McMillin's Hoosiers took a long trip toward the Big Ten championship by dumping Michigan, 13-7, last Sunday. Northwestern, which dropped Iowa State, 18-6, may be tough, but not enough on this week. One for Indiana.

GEORGIA TECH VS. NORTH CAROLINA — Strictly a shot in the dark. Carl Seavelly had plenty of power at Chapel Hill but wasn't very impressive in noosing Camp 9-6. Georgia Tech, under new management, is untied. The flip of a coin says North Carolina.

BUCKNELL VS. CORNELL — Ed Keever got off to a good start against Syracuse and uncovered a kick-throwing passer in Allan Kdebrun. Put this one down for Cornell over a Bucknell team that at Scranton but lost to Villanova.

HOLY CROSS VS. DARTMOUTH — The season's opener for both clubs. Money rides with Holy Cross because of Stan Kosloski, if things else, but it may be close.

VILLANOVA VS. NAVY — Villanova opened with a 19-7 romp over Cornell, but this will be different. Navy are the Wildcats going to hold the Navy back?

MARQUETTE VS. WISCONSIN — Marquette's Rose bowlers are out of the week. Marquette, 13-14, lost to Purdue, to up a Wisconsin team that battled at Lakes to a scoreless tie in mud last Saturday.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA VS. CALIFORNIA — The Rose bowl winners knocked off UCLA, 13-6, week while California bowed to Mary's, 20-13. By simple arithmetic, . . . Southern Cal.

FAKE FOREST VS. TENNESSEE — Another collision of two untied teams. Tennessee's Rose bowlers are out of the week. Fake Forest, they say. But on past performance, we'll say Tennessee.

BROWN VS. PENN — Also an open by two untied outfits. But

Maryland Futurity Is Scheduled Next Week

LAUREL, Md., Sept. 28 (AP) — The Maryland Futurity, a six furlong race worth $5,000 and limited to two-year-olds bred and foaled in Maryland, will be run at Laurel next Wednesday.

In the fifteenth running of the Futurity, a half dozen old-line horse owners who have never had their colors carried to victory in the stakes will be seeking a first triumph. Among those entering for the first time will be Christina Stable, Rose-Maria Stable, W. Y. Goldborough, Breckinridge Long, G. C. Greer, Sr., and Mrs. H. J. Mohr. Two owners who have met with success in past futurities and who will be trying again Wednesday are W. L. Brann and J. W. Y. Martin.

South End Tigers Win Over Wildcats, 24-12

The South End Tigers defeated the South End Wildcats yesterday on the Mary street field by the score of 24-12. Lancaster scored all of the winning team's touchdowns while Hawes's tackling was a highlight. Lewis and Stansbury accounted for the Wildcats' scores.

Penn., bigger and stronger, looks like the winner. Although the Buckeyes are untied, Missouri was battered, 6-34, by Minnesota last week and there's no logical choice in this one except Ohio State.

PURDUE VS. GREAT LAKES — The peace has caught up with the Sailors. Cecil Isbell's Boilermakers were hard-pressed to stop Marquette and may be in for more trouble, but they get the nod here.

LAFAYETTE VS. COLUMBIA — Lou Little promises to inject new authority into the Lions' growl and this is a good chance to get them off on the right foot, Columbia.

CLEMSON VS. GEORGIA — Clemson ran over Presbyterian, 76-0, last week while Georgia bounced Murray Teachers, 46-0. This corner backs the Bulldogs this week.

TCU VS. BAYLOR — Probably the Southwest's thriller of the day. Both teams unbeaten and unscored on in early season non-conference games. Out of the hat, . . . TCU.

OKLAHOMA VS. NEBRASKA — A vote for the Sooners to get over the first big hurdle in defense of their Big Six title.

WEST VIRGINIA VS. PITTSBURGH — Possibly another close one. We'll take Pitt despite that 9-23 lacing by Illinois last week.

MICHIGAN VS. MICHIGAN STATE — The Wolverines to bounce back in impressive style after the reversal in their opener.

LSU VS. RICE — The nod to LSU on the basis of Rice's 13-26 defeat by Corpus Christi.

OREGON VS. WASHINGTON — Ennie meenie . . . Washington. Skipping over the remainder of the day's better games—Penn State over Muhlenberg, Colgate over Rochester, Yale over Tufts, Iowa State over Iowa State Teachers, Oklahoma Aggies over Arkansas, Tulsa over Texas, Kansas State over Wichita, Duke over Bouge field.

KENTUCKY over Cincinnati, William and Mary over Catawba, Mississippi over Florida, Virginia over North Carolina State, Vanderbilt over Tennessee Tech, SMU over Corpus Christi, Texas over Southwest Texas, Texas Aggies over Texas Tech, Colorado over Colorado college, UCLA over San Diego and Washington State over Idaho.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Pfc. George E.
Barrigan of Cumberland, Md., who was killed in Holland Oct. 1, 1944.

The blow was hard the shock severe.
We never thought his death so near.
Only those who have lost can tell.
The pain of parting without farewell.

Our love cannot tell how we miss him.
Our hearts cannot tell what to say.
God alone knows how we miss him.
In our homes where he is laid.

He little thought when leaving home.
That he would never return.
That he so soon in death would sleep.
And leave us here to mourn.

God knows how much we miss him.
Never shall his memory fade.
Loving thoughts will ever wander.
To the spot where he is laid.

Sadly missed by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hartman and his sisters and brothers.

CELANESE AND UNION AGREE ON CONTRACT

610 cents Hourly Wage Increase Demand Is Met By Management

Pay Raise Will Take Effect Monday; Contract Will Be Signed Monday or Tuesday

An NLRB strike vote at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America was called off last night at 6:30 p. m., after heavy balloting all day, as the result of an agreement reached between management and the negotiating committee of Local 1874, TWUA, in which the corporation granted the workers a flat ten cents an hour wage increase.

The job of counting the votes had already started when James Holden, conciliation commissioner of the United States Conciliation Service, emerged from the conference room to announce that an agreement had been reached. Holden said that the tallying of the strike vote had been called off. The ballots became the property of the NLRB.

Increase Effective Monday

The agreement reached yesterday followed a conference of an hour and thirty minutes. The new contract does not require ratification by the union as the union negotiating committee had been empowered to sign a contract providing the proposed ten cents an hour wage increase was met and providing the company allowed all other conditions in the contract already agreed on to stand as is. The wage increase will go into effect Monday and the contract which runs for one year will be officially signed either Monday or Tuesday.

Originally, the corporation offered the workers a ten percent increase which was rejected by the union membership. In a counter proposal presented by the union's negotiating committee Thursday night, the workers asked for a flat ten cents an hour increase, and offered to call off the election if the request was granted.

The company demurred, stating that the corporation wished to avoid introducing inequities and wished to leave the present wage relationship built up over a period of years undisturbed. The company, at this juncture, maintained that any increase should be on a percentage basis. The union contended that employees in the lower income brackets needed more of a proportionate increase than those in higher classifications and held out for the flat ten cents an hour increase for all workers. At this point, the company's "percent" offer and the union's "ten cents" request represented an estimated difference of $300,000.

Holden Issues Statement

Holden said last night that the company did not accept the union's demands Thursday night because management feared the local might strike the contract at a later date in an attempt to correct inequities resulting from the general pay increase which was opposed to the company's offer of a ten per cent wage boost.

Green Opposes Repairs to Short Collier Run Road Reports One-way Road Serves Two Families and Summer Cottage

After exploring a road one and eight-tenths miles long on Collier's run that serves two families and a summer cottage, County Commissioner Simon W. Green said yesterday that he was flatly opposed to paying out between three and four thousand dollars to fix it up. Besides, it is not a county road, Green said.

Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson had expressed himself in favor of repairing the one-way road and yesterday the commissioners went out to take a look at it.

Returning, Green emphatically declared that he was against repairing the road which County Engineer John Carscaden estimated would cost between three and four thousand dollars. The road, which apparently is awash at certain periods of the year, would also require between eighteen and twenty culverts.

Asked why the two families didn't use the other road, Green replied that the owner of the parallel road offered the residents the use of it but that they had not felt inclined to help keep it up.

Green also pointed out that a railroad crossing over the road "is a blind crossing going either way."

C. L. Kopp Declares Learning Is More Rapid Where Motivation Is Strong

School Superintendent Comments on Army Training Methods

How would United States Army "school teaching methods" fit into a civilian school system such as the Allegany county schools?

Charles L. Kopp, school superintendent, gave a reporter his slant on the subject yesterday in commenting on a new bulletin recently released entitled "The Use of Training Aids in the Armed Services."

"First of all," Mr. Kopp said, "it should be borne in mind that the army has a motivation force that we could never attain in public school systems. And it is a well-known fact that where motivation is strong, learning is more rapid. The motivation in army schools is strong because it boils down to the fact that learning the subject matter is a matter of life and death. If you don't learn how to fly a plane well, for example, the chances are

WILLIAM MAULDIN'S BEST-SELLER WILL BE PRINTED IN THE NEWS

Realistic Story about Infantrymen Called One of Greatest Books of World War II

One of the greatest books of World War II, "Up Front" by Bill Mauldin, will be printed in The News starting Monday, Oct. 1.

A Book-of-the-Month Club selection and a best seller since its publication a few months ago, "Up Front" has been acclaimed by critics and readers everywhere as the finest book of its kind.

It is a story about the infantrymen—the tired, bespattered, unkempt, bearded foot soldiers who slugged it out in the front lines. Says Mauldin in the book: "If you don't know how these boys slogged along in the mud and rain, and what sort of treatment they got while they were winning the war for you, I'll tell you." And he does, in a straight, realistic manner.

Mauldin, famous for his "Willie and Joe" cartoon (it appears regularly in The News), is called the infantryman's best friend. From the time he entered the army until he was discharged with 131 points, Mauldin championed the cause of the "dogfoot."

What Ernie Pyle did with his columns, Mauldin does with his drawings and words. As one reviewer put it: "No one else, no professional writer save perhaps Ernie Pyle, has written anything better about the war, factually and account of American infantry in war."

The book of 30,000 words and scores of drawings will be printed in sixteen installments. Don't miss this opportunity to read a great book by the war's greatest writer-cartoonist.

Trucker Is Fined In Highway Crash

James W. Clark, Berkeley Springs, W. Va., truck operator, was fined $50 and costs by Magistrate Frank A. Perdue in trial magistrates court Thursday on a charge of improper parking on Uhl highway to cause an accident, after testimony showed that his truck, carrying a load of coal, was parked near the center of the road.

Clark's truck was struck by a tractor-trailer truck. No one was injured. The truck incorrectly was parked on Sunday but the power house always operates. Some departments behind schedule also work at times.

The brother was named executor of the estate.

Approaching Forum On Conservation Is Discussed

Plans to stimulate interest in the Conservation Forum to be held here November 3 were made last night in the office of County Agent R. F. McHenry when key leaders in the county's wartime scrap drives conferred with conservation supervisors in the area.

W. L. Prazee presided. McHenry spoke on the importance of correlating all forms of conservation in a co-operative endeavor such as the forthcoming forum. Robert Laramy, soil conservationist in this district, also spoke on the importance of the November 3 meeting.

Key leaders were named to head the campaign to stimulate interest in the forum. They are: Little Orleans section, A. R. Shafer; Odontown and Paw Paw sections, Ross Shaw and Mrs. Nellie Thomas; North Branch and Williams road section, Delbert Valentine; Flintstone, Martin Gordon; Union Grove section to the Pennsylvania line, W. H. Johnson; Mt. Savage-Corrigansville area, Earl T. Lepley and Mrs. James H. Welmer; Potomac Valley section, J. William Lohr; Upper part of Georges Creek, Charles Harvey, and Lower Georges Creek, Evin Meese.

Vets Are Offered Aid on Tax Bills

Orders to give veterans every consideration in clearing up any back taxes which some of them may have were issued yesterday by Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., commissioner of internal revenue, to Division Chief Richard J. Stakem.

The commissioner wrote to each field office in Maryland as follows: "If a discharged veteran is unable to pay income taxes within the period of deferment provided by Section 513 of the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act (six months after discharge), or is unable to pay promptly any other Federal tax liability incurred prior to or during his term of service, Collectors should deal with the matter of collection in a cooperative and sympathetic manner. Partial payments, geared to the financial resources of the service men or women, may be accepted in such cases."

Many, if not most, of the men and women of the armed forces owe no past taxes. Usually, where a veteran has some unpaid taxes, they were incurred before entrance into the armed forces or they resulted from civilian income received in addition to service pay. Tax was incurred on service pay only when it exceeded $2,000 per year ($500 personal exemption plus special $1,500 exclusion of service pay).

Veterans and returning service personnel in general who have any Federal tax problems may consult the local offices of the collectors of internal revenue for information, help in preparing returns, and other assistance.

Strike Vote Will Be Taken at Kelly Plant on Oct. 21

Union Asks for General Wage Increase; Conciliator Enters Case

James A. Holden, federal conciliator, announced yesterday that a strike vote under the supervision of the National Labor Relations Board is scheduled for the employees of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant October 21.

Local 26, United Rubber Workers of America, notified the federal department of its desire to take a strike vote September 21. The company has been notified by the United States Conciliation Service of the union's action and Holden discussed the problem with company officials.

Holden said he will try and keep both parties conferring and that the same procedure will be followed as with the dispute between Local 1874, TWUA, and the Celanese Corporation of America.

Seek General Wage Increase The union has asked for a general wage increase to bring rates on a par with those for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company in Akron, O.

The union also sought to have some alleged inequities in base rates corrected and a company representative reports some agreement has been reached along these lines.

Approximately forty delegates are expected to attend the conference, representing New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Mayor T. R. McKeldin of Baltimore will welcome the delegates. Speakers will include Joel Mencher, of Tuskegee, N. Y., president of the National Federation of Young Republican Clubs, and Keith Winters, of Baltimore, president of the Maryland group.

Personnel in Office Of Price and Rationing Board Is Curtailed

In line with curtailment of Office of Price Administration activity, three clerks in the office of the War Price and Rationing board yesterday were dismissed, board officials said.

They added that further cuts in rationing division personnel are expected.

Two of the employees dismissed yesterday have worked at the board since 1942. The other had been employed by the board since January of this year.

In the recent control office, employees said they were awaiting word from Baltimore with regard to curtailment of the staff. They said they expected such word by Monday.

Completion of Savage River Dam Is Backed by Rep. J. Glenn Beall

Passage of a bill introduced by Senator Thomas, of Oklahoma, which would provide funds for completion of a number of projects throughout the country including the Savage river dam, now seems assured, Rep. J. Glenn Beall advised the board of county commissioners yesterday.

Beall said that hearings are scheduled to start next week on the bill and pledged his "fullest support" in having the bill approved by the House as soon as possible.

Will Hold Hearings

Simon W. Green, board chairman, said yesterday that the commissioners have received petitions in recent months from a number of veterans organizations in the county urging that steps be taken for the completion of the dam as a means of providing work for many ex-servicemen.

Anti-pollution work and flood control on the Potomac river in the Cumberland area will take a major step forward if approval is given the Senate bill to provide the necessary funds to complete the dam.

Living on Borrowed Time Ends Sunday; Standard Time Returns

Clocks Should Be Turned Back One Hour; Effective at 2 A. M.

You've got to give back that hour of borrowed time you've been living on since February 8, 1942, when 2 o'clock ticks around Sunday morning.

That's the end of War time, and unless you forget to set your clock back an hour before you retire Saturday night you're liable to find yourself getting to church ahead of time Sunday morning.

If you're up at 2 a. m., you can turn your clock back to 1 a. m., and enjoy the hour over again. If you don't want to stay up until 2 a. m. set your clock back before you go to bed. It will bring the same result.

Or, if you forget to set it before retiring, just set the clock back when you think it's time to get up Sunday and then roll over for another hour's sleep. That will bring the same result too.

Although the change in clock time will make it an hour later by the sun, business will continue on the regular clock time.

There will be one noticeable change during the winter months. Since War time became effective, Cumberlanders have been going to work in the dark and home in daylight, but when Standard time becomes effective, workers will go to their jobs in daylight and home at dusk.

However, in eastern Ohio, the change won't make much difference. Many communities there went on Standard time months ago.

Young Republican Clubs May Lower Their Age Limit

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28 (AP)—The possibility of lowering the membership age limits for Young Republican clubs will be one of the principal topics to be discussed at the Eastern States Conference of the National Federation of Young Republican Clubs tomorrow in Baltimore (Emerson hotel).

Leland Rockwell, of Baltimore, secretary of the Eastern States Council, said it had been proposed several groups of the federation to change the membership age from 21 through 40 to 18 through 30.

Rockwell, who said he was in favor of the idea, asserted that by lowering the age for admittance into the clubs they would be able to teach young boys and girls civic responsibility before they become of voting age.

Plans for a national convention and the council's future program also will be among subjects to be discussed.

Approximately forty delegates are expected to attend the conference, representing New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Mayor T. R. McKeldin of Baltimore will welcome the delegates. Speakers will include Joel Mencher, of Tuskegee, N. Y., president of the National Federation of Young Republican Clubs, and Keith Winters, of Baltimore, president of the Maryland group.

Robert Walt, of Richmond, Va., is chairman of the Eastern Council.

Darling, Wiseman Sent to Prison By Federal Judge

Two Cumberland men who pleaded guilty to charges of using the mails in an attempt to defraud the Glenn L. Martin Aircraft Corporation, Baltimore, were sentenced to eighteen months imprisonment yesterday morning by Judge W. Calvin Chesnut in federal court, Baltimore.

The men are James H. Darling, 50 Waverly terrace, a Western Railway trainman; and Sherwood A. Wiseman, 28, formerly of this city.

Wiseman, a former employee of the Martin company, conceived a plan to defraud the firm of nearly $5,000 by means of a fraudulent invoice purporting to cover delivery of precision instruments by a fictitious company Wiseman and Darling set up in Pittsburgh, the government claimed. The invoice was printed in the name of the "Bryson and Jackson Company, Room 405, Berger Building." The two men rented the room and had the fictitious name painted on the office door with the name "Henry Crawford" as agent.

The government asserted Wiseman contacted Darling, who went to Pittsburgh, where Wiseman gave him drawings of rubber stamps used by the Martin company in approving invoices. The two also had in their possession a "delivery" of precision instruments.

Officials from the company's Treasury Department testified suspicion had been aroused by the invoice, but that the check was issued regardless in order to catch the responsible person.

But for the Hagerstown Farmer's and Merchant's Bank's routine request for references when Wiseman, who previously opened a $20 account under the name of Crawford, sought to deposit the Martin company's check, the plan may have worked, Judge Chesnut said in passing sentence.

Defense counsel stated that Wise-
